

THE CHOIR practices daily.

Choir Begins Tour Of Southern U.S.

Wartburg Choir left this morning on its first tour of southern United States.

On its two-week jaunt it will travel more than three thousand miles to sing in Illinois, Tennessee, Alabama, Florida, Indiana and Iowa.

THE CHOIR has previously toured Midwest and Western states in addition to Europe. The home concert is slated Tuesday, Nov. 22.

Touring southern United States will be a different experience for Choir members because of a much closer contact with the segregation problem, according to Dr. Edwin Liemohn, director.

Another first is registered by the fact that Choir members will take their mid-semester tests under the honor system while on tour.

THE TOUR schedule follows:

- Nov. 5—Peoria, Ill.
- Nov. 6—Lincoln, Ill.
- Nov. 7—Metropolis, Ill.
- Nov. 8—Memphis, Tenn.
- Nov. 9—Montgomery, Ala.
- Nov. 10—Tallahassee, Fla.
- Nov. 11—St. Petersburg, Fla.
- Nov. 12—Fort Lauderdale, Fla.
- Nov. 13—North Miami, Fla.
- Nov. 14—Orlando, Fla.
- Nov. 15—Dothan, Ala.
- Nov. 16—Columbia, Tenn.
- Nov. 17—Evansville, Ind.
- Nov. 18—Danforth, Ill.
- Nov. 19—Earlville, Ill.
- Nov. 20—Dixon, Ill., and Earlville, Iowa

We're Voting!

Wartburg students cast between 150 and 200 absentee ballots in the 1960 Presidential election during the past week, according to treasurer Miss Eldora Flugga, who notarizes the ballots.

Deans, Diers At Meet

Dean of Women Florence Hertlein, Dean of Students Earnest F. Oppermann and Chaplain Herman Diers will attend the Personnel Deans and College Pastors meeting of The American Lutheran Church at Luther College, Decorah, Nov. 6, 7 and 8.

In addition, Dean Oppermann and Mrs. Hertlein will attend the Personnel Workers State Institute at Drake University Nov. 14.

Four History Teachers To Attend Conference

Four members of the History Department will attend the annual Conference of History Teachers in Iowa Colleges at Grinnell College, Grinnell, Nov. 5.

Raymond Norheim, Ronald Matthias, James Leamon and Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg are the four from Wartburg attending.

Main part of the conference, according to Dr. Ottersberg, will be a forum on the topic "The State and Economic Policy," led by Pierre Mendes-France, ex-premier of France.

At the afternoon session Alan Jones, a member of the Grinnell staff, will present a paper on "Due Process of Law Once Again."

Work Interviews Slated

The Rev. Ewald Bash of the Youth Department of The American Lutheran Church will be on campus to interview prospective volunteer summer church workers Wednesday.

According to Chaplain Herman Diers, students interested in this type of work should obtain application blanks from his office.

INCLUDED IN THE volunteer services program are parish mission building, parish youth work, Bible camp caravans and international work camps.

All these programs take students throughout the United States. Some involve traveling to foreign countries.

FURTHER INFORMATION may be obtained from present Wartburg students who participated in the program last year.

Three-Year Alumni Revitalization Plan Adopted At Board Of Directors Meet

A three-year plan to revitalize the Wartburg College Alumni Association was adopted last weekend at the annual meeting of the Alumni Board of Directors.

The plan, known as Wartburg Alumni Mobilization (WAM), was proposed jointly by Alumni Director Bob Gremmels and the association's Long-Range Planning Committee. To finance the first year of the plan, the board adopted a budget of $12,875.

WAM is described as a four-dimensional plan to aid Wartburg College and higher education through:

1. Alumni Headquarters — establishing an effective, up-to-date alumni office on campus to serve the needs and interests of Wartburg alumni everywhere.
2. Alumni Relations — building toward a world-wide organization of informed, dedicated, participating alumni.
3. Alumni Projects — developing a well-planned, many-faceted program of alumni service to Wartburg College and to higher education.
4. Alumni Communications — utilizing to the fullest extent possible the miracles of modern media—to interpret Wartburg College and higher education to the alumni and to interpret the alumni to the college.

During the first year, emphasis will be on reorganization of the Alumni Association and the building of alumni identity. In the second and third years emphasis will shift to world-wide organization and greater alumni participation.

"Under 'Alumni Relations' considerable attention will be given to student orientation," Gremmels said. "We hope to do a variety of things to interpret our program to students, so that they'll know what alumni work is all about by the time they graduate."

Gremmels added that the chief objective in working with students is to give them the proper image of alumnship and to stir their interest in alumni work.

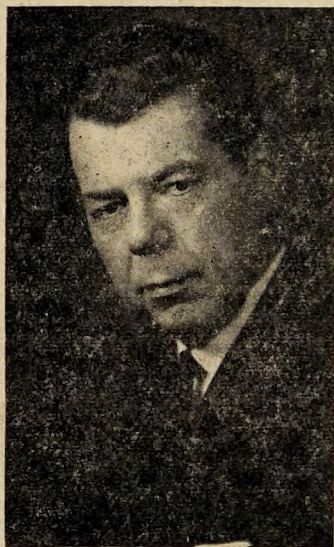

In other action, the Board of Directors adopted five resolutions, which were approved Saturday at the association's meeting.

Included are a resolution urging the Board of Regents to give top priority to the construction of a science building and a resolution calling for the appointment of a study committee on church occupations to investigate the sharp decline in the number of students preparing for so-called full-time church work.

Gremmels described the latter action as "a real step toward maturity" for the Alumni Association.

Gremmels cautioned that the purpose of this study is not to "drum up business for the seminaries" but to discover why church occupations seem to be losing their appeal among young people.

Annual elections to the Alumni Board of Directors were also completed last weekend.

Pries

Clarence Pries of Cedar Falls, former Wartburg College business manager, was named president. Vice president (and president elect) is the Rev. Donald Loots, Mason City.

'DON GIOVANNI' TO BE PRESENTED AS

Opera Highlights Next Series

By Elaine Melchert

Mozart's "Don Giovanni" will be presented in Knights Gymnasium Monday, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. by the Boris Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater for the season's second Artist Series presentation.

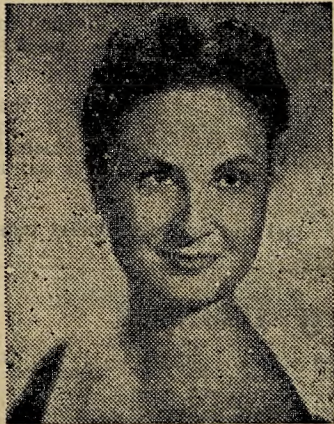

This opera has been regarded by many as the greatest ever written. A translation has been especially prepared for the Grand Opera Theater by Ruth and Thomas Martin. The performance will be staged in English.

Featuring a company of 50, the production includes orchestra, chorus, new costumes, new scenery, plus a new multi-projection system permitting many scenery changes.

This system projects glass slides onto plastic flats, making it possible to change scenes without loss of continuity. This also reflects sound, thus insuring perfect balance between the vocalists and orchestra.

In the dual role of conductor and stage director, Boris Goldovsky will personally travel with this year's tour.

Goldovsky is known as "Mr. Opera" for his intermission commentaries on the weekly Saturday matinee broadcasts from the Metropolitan Opera House.

Ronald Holgate plays the title role of Don Giovanni, a licentious Spanish nobleman. His comic henchman, Leporello, is played by Iowa-born Paul Ukena.

He grumblingly assists his master in many adventures, though he manages to escape the fate which overtakes Giovanni. Paul Ukena holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Dubuque.

The daughter of a nobleman murdered by Giovanni, Donna

Anna is played by soprano Marguerite Willauer. With a desire for vengeance, she pursues the villain.

A lady of Burgos, Donna Elvira, loves Giovanni, but her love is not returned. She is portrayed by Constance Fisher. Zerlina, a peasant girl who resists the advances of Giovanni, is sung by Marguerite Gignac. Masetto, Zerlina's village sweetheart, is played by Sherrill Milnes.

The Goldovsky company exists to prove that the valid theater, even translated into English, can make sense to this century's American public.

Board of Regents will hold its annual fall meeting here Tuesday.

Increasing income and providing for physical growth are the main items in the report prepared by Wartburg Pres. C. H. Becker.

"We have to increase income to meet necessary rises in expenditures," said Dr. Becker.

ELABORATING, he explained the expenditure increases are necessary to raise faculty salaries, pay the increased cost of a new pension plan and assume full responsibility for the faculty and staff insurance.

The proposed pension plan, which was presented at a recent faculty meeting, includes both faculty members and administrative staff in its provisions. The plan is sponsored by The American Lutheran Church.

Insurance cost is going up, according to Dr. Becker, because TALC, unlike the old American Lutheran Church, is not assuming part of the expenditure.

THE BUILDING program will also be discussed by the regents. Dr. Becker will ask for approval to engage an architect for a science building. Financing the new structure will also be considered.

"Plans and specifications for the new women's dormitory should be drawn up by Dec. 1," said Dr. Becker. "Bids will probably be let in December or January."

ALUMNI DIRECTOR Robert Gremmels and the Rev. Bruno Schlachtenhaufen of Waterloo, past Alumni Association president, will present an alumni program to the regents.

Dr. Becker pointed out that, according to his annual reports to the Board of Regents, the number of volumes in the library has increased from 33,951 in 1955 to 50,070 this year.

EDITORIALS—

Is This Digestible?

Fifty-eight college students on two buses headed for Florida.

- One large brown manilla envelope.
- One mid-semester test week.
- Mix ingredients thoroughly for two weeks.
- Bake in warm, exciting, busy atmosphere.

Ever use a recipe that hadn't been tested? Probably not. That would be foolish; money and time would be wasted.

The preceding recipe hasn't been tested, either. Therefore, the results at this time are unpredictable, but the next two weeks will decide whether or not this particular recipe will be included in the Wartburg Family's cookbook.

The Wartburg Choir will be playing Betty Crocker. Its members will be the guinea pigs in this experiment. The recipe will be a success or a failure in their minds.

Why is this recipe so important? Easy enough question. This will be the first time that the honor system will be used to a large degree at Wartburg.

Choir members will be on their own as far as taking the tests are concerned. Their responsibility will be great. And perhaps it isn't quite fair to test the recipe under somewhat handicapped conditions.

However, this is an important step in the right direction to the ideal situation — the ideal situation of placing the responsibility of the honor system on the shoulders of all students.

If this experiment is successful, perhaps next year more instructors will be less reluctant to try the honor system on this Christian campus.

Fifty-eight college students will take their mid-semester exams while heading for Florida.

'Shadows' Stretching

"Long Shadows from the Elms" is in print.

In presenting the first copy to its composer, Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, recently, Dean of Faculty John O. Chellevoid made it plain that "Long Shadows" was not meant to replace any present Wartburg songs but rather to supplement them.

That "Long Shadows" should be elevated above the ordinary run of songs at Wartburg is almost self-evident. No other song, not even the Loyalty or Fight songs, seems so typically Wartburg.

It probably is wise not to throw out any of our present songs to make room for "Long Shadows." After all, they are Wartburg, too.

However, it's well that "Long Shadows" is in print. It's beginning to get the recognition it deserves.

Well, the Knights Kaimed the Kitties. Now the next job is to Tackle the Tests and Please the Profs.

This is the time of year that both the Friend and the Roman vie for the ears of their countrymen.

One freshman girl has discovered how to be popular at Wartburg:

"It's easy. All you have to do is get a box from home."

Stop! Have you chosen your picture for the Fortress, paid your dues, got your ticket for "Don Giovanni," brought back that late library book and purchased a student directory?

Having fulfilled these tasks should now give you time to study for your five half-semester exams. Doesn't college life work out just perfectly?

You push, you tug, you pinch, you crawl, you get punched in the stomach, your purse gets dumped, you can't find your key and then when you finally get there, you haven't any mail!!!

Most students on campus are striving to get up early in the mornings. The other day a junior told me how he works it. In the evenings he takes a reserve book from the library. Since it is due the next morning at 8:30, he has to get up at 7:30 or pay a fine. And who wants to pay?

Even though each week might start out bad, it steadily gets worse and worse.

IN PROBABLE ELECTORAL VOTES —

Kennedy Leads Election Race

By Bill Goetz

Kennedy leads Nixon, 306 probable electoral votes to 149, with 82 so close as to be unpredictable.

Thus Time magazine sums up prospects for the Presidential election as of this week, with most other reliable sources in agreement.

The influential New York Times is backing a Democratic candidate for the first time since 1944. And in Nevada, the betting odds in favor of Kennedy are steadily rising.

Certainly the trend seems to be toward Kennedy, with election day less than a week away. Yet impartial observers are also nearly unanimous in judging the outcome to be so in doubt as to be unpredictable.

ANXIETY GENERATED by

the fear of losing can be noted in both candidates and the groups which support them.

Within this coming week the electorate as a whole will exercise its free choice, and in doing so will turn America in one of two possible directions.

AN AWESOME responsibility rests upon each voter, for although each will have reasons for choosing either Kennedy or Nixon, none can know the precise nature of the development of future events under either of these men.

But the mold of future history will not be cast on Nov. 8. It is being made and remade each moment. Ultimately, our country will follow a course determined by the composite of the decisions and actions of each of its citizens, day by day.

Our decision on Nov. 8 will represent one such choice. But an even more important choice will be made on Nov. 9 — individual voters will choose whether or not to lapse back into apathy and abandon the responsibilities of citizens in a democracy.

College Officials Laud Homecoming

To the Editor:

The college administrators go on record as expressing appreciation and thanks to the Homecoming chairman, his committee and all who assisted him in making Homecoming weekend a success.

We realize the amount of work involved and that the success of the Homecoming activities depends on the students' willingness to participate.

Knights 'n' Daze

With the election just a few days away, the name-calling and mud-slinging have just about reached their peak, or so we hope. Vice President Nixon has called one of Kennedy's statements a bare-faced lie, and Senator Kennedy has retorted that Nixon is riding Ike's coat-tails.

Meanwhile, Ex-President Truman added the Baptist Church and Texas Republicans to the long list of people he has relegated to the nether regions.

However, lest we conclude that dirty politics is the exclusive property of 1960, let's blow the dust off the history books and look at a few past campaigns:

Item: In the heat of the 1956 campaign, a pro-Republican publisher released a book by Adlai Stevenson's former wife called "The Egghead and I."

Item: In 1932, one of F. D. R.'s ghost writers told him, "I've written two drafts of this speech, one favoring low tariffs and one favoring high tariffs. Which one do you want?" F. D. R., with the flawless instincts of the born politician, replied, "Weave them both together."

Item: When Grover Cleveland was running against James G. Blaine, the Blaine forces were responsible for the rumor that Cleveland was the father of a child without benefit of clergy. Blaine forces marched up and down in front of the White House chanting,

"Ma, Ma, where's my pa?"

"Gone to the White House, ha, ha, ha."

Cleveland forces were quick to retaliate with posters advertising, "Blaine, Blaine, James G. Blaine; Continental liar from the state of Maine."

Item: At one time it was thought that Charles Evans Hughes, the pompous Supreme Court justice, had defeated Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency.

When reporters flocked to Hughes' headquarters for a statement, they were met by a secretary who told them, "The President announces that he has retired and does not wish to be disturbed. He will make a statement in the morning."

Just then a courier from Democratic headquarters burst in waving a paper carrying last-minute California returns, which threw the election to Wilson, and shouted, "When the so-and-so gets up, tell him he isn't President any more!"

The 1960 campaign has not had that kind of color, but don't forget to vote Tuesday, anyway.

Jomen Face Dubuque Today

By Paul Baumgarten
Knights face the University of Dubuque at Dubuque today.
The Spartans thus far this season have posted a 3-3 record in conference play, defeating Buena Vista, Simpson and Central, and falling victim to Luther, Parsons and Upper Iowa.

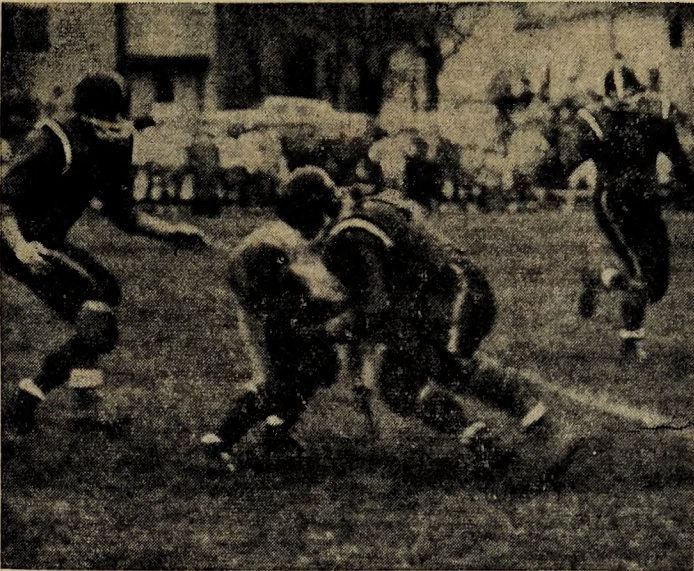

DUBUQUE HAS an extremely small, light squad this year. However, it has 18 returning lettermen from a squad which last year posted a 4-4 conference record.

The Spartans operate from a short-punt formation, which features a wide-open type of offense. They also have a very good, veteran-studded defensive squad, which has been the key to their success this year.

THE TWO SPARTANS to watch will be Curtis Casey and Bill Carter. Casey, who leads the team in offense, has an average of 3.9 yards a play, and Carter, who leads in rushing, has an average of 3.5 yards a carry.

Knight coach, Norm Johannsen, said that in preparation for this encounter his gridders have been working primarily on fundamentals.

IN THE GAME last weekend, which featured both sloppy weather and sloppy play, the Knights squeaked past the Wildcats of Iowa Wesleyan by a 6-0 score. The game's only score occurred late in the first quarter as Wartburg quarterback Jack McClelland sneaked over from the six-inch line.

The scoring drive began when Wesleyan on fourth down was forced to punt from its own 37. The ball came down on the Wartburg 34, where, after being variously bobbled and fumbled, it bounced out of bounds in the possession of the Knights.
On the next play, Marv Ott outran the Wesleyan defenders around end for a 36-yard pickup. The drive seemed stopped three plays later when Wartburg fumbled, and the ball was recovered by the Wildcats.
HOWEVER, ON THE next play they fumbled the ball back to the Jomen, who scored the deciding TD six plays later.

The rest of the game was a procession up and down the field with the ball, neither team being able to score because of various fumbles and pass interceptions.

The only real Wesleyan threat occurred in the fourth quarter as it recovered a Wartburg fumble on the Wartburg 26. However, the Wildcats again fumbled a few plays later and the Knights' reserve quarterbacks ran out the clock with a series of sneaks.

SENIOR SPORTLIGHT

Klaudt Clouts 'em As Flanker

By Bob Johannsen
John Klaudt, like many of today's football players, has become a specialist. An end, he concentrates on offense.
The six-foot 185-pounder's proficiency at this skill is exhibited by the four monograms he has collected on the gridiron and his rugged play each week.
Klaudt's touchdown pass reception against Parsons in 1958 helped give Wartburg its 19-7 win over the Kelly Greens, and he has been one of the steady performers on the Wartburg 11 ever since.
At Waverly High School, where he garnered 10 letters, John participated in basketball, baseball and track as well as in football. He received honorable mention in Iowa's all-state football selections and was all-conference in the rugged North Iowa Conference.
John's interest in athletics is also evident off the field. He is a physical education major and is planning a coaching career. He belongs to W-Club and Student Education Association.
Skin diving and swimming serve as his avocational interests. He treks to Lake Okoboji often during the summer months when he has time off from his lifeguard duties at the local pool.
"Augustana was the toughest team we have faced so far," said John.
He thought this was Wartburg's best showing and gave credit for the victory to the Knight's alteration of their offensive formation.

Klaudt

"The addition of the belly series to our present offense gave the team new enthusiasm," said Klaudt.
As the season nears its finale, may John, a rugged performer on the offensive unit, once again help start the ball rolling for another long Wartburg victory streak, helping the Knight lightning to strike again in the conference record books.

11 Cagers Report To Ax

Last Tuesday 11 basketball players reported to Coach Ax Bundgaard to start practice for the opening game with Augsburg on Dec. 1.
Those vying to become one of the starting five are lettermen Kermit Urbain, Don Hein, Jim Borcharding, Darwin Oehlerich and Reuben Drefs and sophomores Len Schmidt, Dave Brunschcen and Bob Harken.
Sophomores Bill Marten, Leon Schade and Gary Medlang also are practicing with the varsity but will not be eligible until the second semester.
With the completion of the football season, the squad will be increased by four when Marv Ott, Bob Mueller, Dave Jensen and Marlyn Eitmann become Axmen.
Freshman practice also started this week with 28 frosh reporting.

Wartburg Hosts Conference Meet

Wartburg will host the second annual Iowa Conference Cross-Country Meet one week from today.
The meet, to be held at the Waverly Golf Course, will begin at 11 a.m.
Dubuque is last year's defending champion and is expected to be one of the leading contenders, along with Simpson, for the title this year.
Simpson is led by a Jordan student, who runs barefoot.
Thus far, only four teams, Luther, Simpson, Parsons and Wartburg, have entered the meet. However, at least two more are expected to enter, according to Coach Ax Bundgaard.

W-Club Picks Dreier Month's Athlete

Wayne Dreier, senior from Preston, Minn., was elected Athlete-of-the-Month by the W-Club at its meeting Wednesday.

Dreier is presently playing fullback for the Jomen. He has won four letters in football and two in track, where he runs the 100- and the 220-yard dashes.

Knight Harriers Also In Dubuque

Wartburg's football team is not the only Knight squad in Dubuque today.

This morning the cross-country team met a strong Spartan cross-country team. This is the final dual meet of the year for the Knights.

Last Tuesday the Knights failed to get into the win column by losing to Luther 15-50. Russ Leitz again led the Knights, placing eighth.

200 To 250 Visitors Will Arrive Here Next Sat. For Visitations, Counseling

An estimated 200 to 250 high school students, parents and counselors will arrive on campus next Saturday, Nov. 12, to take part in the Visitation and Counseling Day program.

Barring bad weather, visitors from Iowa and surrounding states will participate in the day's events, according to Fred Thompson, admissions director.

"THE PRIMARY emphasis of Visitation Day is on counseling," said Thompson. "Most of the students who attend will be those who have been thinking quite seriously about their courses."

Students will have a chance to talk with professors in the areas in which they are interested and to ask questions about which courses are necessary for certain vocations and about job opportunities and salaries in various professions.

Admissions counseling regarding such topics as how to make application to college, housing and cost will also be available to students and their parents.

Thompson emphasized the part that Wartburg students will play in making Visitation Day a success.

"STUDENTS SHOULD act as hosts and counselors to the visitors," he said. "They should make the guests feel welcome and try to answer their questions about dorm life, extra-curricular activities and courses."

At the welcoming program at 9:30 a.m. Pres. C. H. Becker will speak on the topic "What to Look for in a College." He will also present an over-all picture of Wartburg College.

Campus tours from 8-9:30 a.m. and 12:30-1:30 p.m. will be given under the direction of the Student Senate.

Wisconsin Is Aim Of Debate Team

Wartburg debate team will travel to Wisconsin State College at Oshkosh Nov. 11-12.

Sophomore Nancy Gaylor and senior Gayle Turner will debate the affirmative throughout the seven rounds while juniors Al Putz and Wendell Debnier will uphold the negative.

Question for debate is: "Resolved, "That the United States should provide a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens."

Home Ec. Girls Place In Contest

Two Wartburg home economics students rated high in the district "Make-It-Yourself" wool contest held in Waterloo last week.

Freshman Sharon Gehm placed third, and sophomore Irene Rademaker was fourth in the "Misses" class of wool clothing, according to Miss Hazel May Snyder, home economics instructor.

Reception To Honor Neumann Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Neumann will be feted at a social hour Sunday in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. Dr. Neumann has been a member of the Wartburg English Department 50 years.

Sponsored by college faculty, staff and other friends of the Neumanns, the reception will be held 2-4 p.m. in the Union lounge. Students are invited, according to Mrs. Florence Hertlein, member of the planning committee.

Dr. Love At Meeting

Dr. Katherine Love, German Department, attended a meeting of the Iowa Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of German and a meeting of the Iowa Foreign Language Association yesterday. Both conferences were held at Drake University, Des Moines.

Knief At Parley

Dr. Lotus Knief, Psychology Department, attended a Guidance and Counseling Parley at Iowa State Teachers College recently.

Convo Features U.S. Agent, 'Top Secret'

A State Department official and a top secret presentation are on the convo docket for next week.

Edwin M. J. Kretzmann, deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs, will speak Friday on "The Challenge of the '60's." All 10 a.m. Friday classes will be held Thursday during the regular convo period.

KRETZMANN, WHO has served as public affairs adviser for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs, received his B. D. from Concordia Theological Seminary, his M. A. at Ohio State University in 1932 and his Ph. D. from Brown University in 1936.

He served on the Brown faculty until 1942, when he entered military service and advanced to lieutenant colonel in military intelligence.

KRETZMANN, appointed a career foreign service officer in 1948, was a consul in Shanghai. After returning to the Department of State, he was made associate chief for political affairs in 1950.

The top secret convocation Tuesday is under the supervision of senior Connie Wiechers.

Senior Jan Weltzien Chosen Girl-Of-Week

Senior Jan Weltzien, Arcadia, Wis., was chosen by North Hall as its fifth Girl-of-the-Week.

Announcement was made Thursday night.

HS Seniors Try Test

Approximately 125 high school seniors are on campus today in connection with the American College Testing Program. Testing is under way in the chapel-auditorium.

And now that Homecoming is past, we have the usual sequel—mid-terms. But don't stay away from club meetings. It's a matter of self-defense. If you aren't there, you can't protect yourself from being put on committees!

And here are the meetings you shouldn't miss for the next couple of weeks:

Monday night (Nov. 7), Young Republicans meet, 7:30, Clinton Hall Lounge. Last ditch stand? Election day is Tuesday.

Ushers Club will be boning up for its next performance. Meet at 7 p.m. in Luther Hall, Room 101, Tuesday.

And speaking of performance — Don't forget the Artist Series Nov. 14.

American Chemical Society meets in Wartburg Hall Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 7 p.m.

More scientists will meet in Luther Hall, 308, at 7 p.m. the next night, Wednesday. Tri-Beta meeting.

Have fun on tour, Choir. Bring us back some sunshine. We'll probably be floundering in snow drifts by the time you return!
